

Word of Wisdom to Accompany You for the Rest of Your Life...

By: Speaker Extraordinaire
Sr. Steve Sobel

- 1. Please spread the word that children may not be 100% of our population, but they are certainly 100% of our future
- 2. Your Approach to a problem is as important as finding the solution. Make it your business to smile more than you have to and to laugh heartily when you have the chance.
- 3. Please remember what Will Rogers said – “We can’t all be heroes because someone has to sit on the curb and clap as they go by.”
- 4. Your influence on people is profound and that negativity is very powerful and draining. Have you ever met a very negative person, that by simply leaving the room, the room brightens up?
- 5. As one wise man said: “A sense of humor is the pole that adds balance to your steps as we walk the tightrope of life.”
- 6. We are all here on a temporary pass: do what you can to make the world and your district a better place for students, and make it your business to start to do it now. Many great ideas are not always initially popular ideas
- 7. Make sure you ask the name of each child you meet. It makes them feel that you really care. That is a pretty good first step.
- 8. EVERY employee has a big job – the chance to influence children and quality of life in that school
- 9. Finally, do as W.C. Fields suggests: “Start every day with a smile and get it over with.”
